

List of Site Evaluators – St. Lucie County

Updated 8/2024

* This is not an inclusive list of all qualified site evaluators.

Please contact FDOH-St. Lucie at (772) 873-4931 to be added or removed from this list.

62-6.004 Application for System Construction Permit (3) The suitability of a lot, property, subdivision or building for the use of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system must be determined from an evaluation of lot size, anticipated sewage flow into the proposed system, the anticipated sewage waste strength, soil and water table conditions, soil drainage and site topography and other related criteria. Necessary site investigations and tests must be performed at the expense of the owner by either an engineer with soils training who is licensed in the State of Florida pursuant to Chapter 471, F.S., by Department personnel, registered septic tank contractors, master septic tank contractors, professional soil scientists certified and registered by the Florida Association of Environmental Soil Scientists, and persons certified under Section 381.0101, F.S. Registered septic tank contractors must perform site evaluations for system repairs only.

As specified in the Florida Administrative Code above, for new construction, site evaluations may be performed by engineers with soils training licensed in FL, master septic tank contractors, professional soil scientists registered by FAESS (Florida Association of Environmental Soil Scientists), and persons certified under 381.0101 F.S., i.e. CEHP's (Certified Environmental Health Professionals).
